Heber Cole Honored on 90th Birthday

On Wednesday evening January 15th, in the Recreation Hall of the Second Ward Church, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Cole were the guests of honor, celebrating the 90th birthday of Mr. Cole. Mr. Cole was born in England on January 14th, 1857. He came as a young man with his parents to Utah, and later with his wife moved to Raymond where he has resided ever since.

Mr. Cole earned his living as a house painter and has done his share in the pioneering of Utah and of Alberta, having participated in the decoration of Temples and Church houses continuing in this vocation till well over eighty years of age. The party held in his honor was sponsored by the High Priests Quorum of the Second Ward of which organization Mr. Cole has long been a member. Mr. Fred Piepgrass was Master of Ceremonies and called the party to order and the following program was rendered:

All present joined in singing "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow" followed with a prayer by John F. Salmon. Mr. Piepgrass introduced the guest Mr. Coles who expressed his gratitude at the honor bestowed upon himself and his wife. He related many of his experiences of his long and busy life, some of which were of a miraculous nature. Mr. James S. Anderson then recited a poem which he had composed for the occasion. He also paid a glowing tribute to the humility, the honesty, and sincerity of Mr. Cole, also his willingness to report of the community. Mrs. Lucy Stevens gave a reading "A Bit of Courtship" followed by Sidney B. Smith with "The Worries About You". Mr. Elmer Spackman read a short story "Checking Up". Bishop L.L. Palmer spoke very highly of Mr. Cole and of his service to the Church and to the community. Mr. James H. Walker followed with a very high tribute to Mr. Cole as a pioneer in two countries, also to his wonderful alertness both physically and mentally at such an advanced age, concluding with the hope that Mr. and Mrs. Cole would have as many more birth days as they could enjoy. The party then adjourned to the rotunda where a light lunch was served and the celebration concluded with a song by Mrs. L. D. King and Mrs. Fanny Walker, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Emma Dahl of an old favorite "No Sir". Mr. L. D. King offered the closing prayer.

Mrs. Cole is about the same age as her husband having been born in 1859.

Present at the gathering were the guests of honor Mr. and Mrs. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Piepgrass, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. King, Bishop and Mrs. L.L. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. McMullin, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Spackman, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Eph Gough, Mr. and Mrs. George Fromm, Mr. and Mrs. Will Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Walker, Mr. Harold Garner, Mr. Don Rodehaek, Mr. Chas. Haneock, Mr. John Salmon, Mr. J.S. Anderson, Mrs. George Fairbanks, Mr. David Meldrum and Mr. Sidney B. Smith.

Raymond Girl Is Honor Student

PROVO, Utah—Miss Kathleen Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Taylor of Raymond is one of the forty-one students on the honor roll at Brigham Young University for the autumn quarter, according to an announcement by John E. Hayes, Registrar. In order to earn a place on the honor roll, a student must have completed 16 or more credit hours of "A" grade work during the previous quarter.

Miss Taylor was graduated from Raymond High School in 1946, where she was editor of the Hi-Times. She is now a freshman at the "Y" registered in the College of Arts and Sciences, majoring in languages.

THE Sport Spot

The home basketball front was quiet last week. The Jacks went to Edmonton to play a two game total point exhibition series with the U. of A. Golden Bears. They played Friday and Saturday, the 17th and 18th.

The first game went to the Jacks 41-40 in a fast thrilling game, the winning point being scored by big Ollie Michelson, centre, on a free throw. The score was tied several times and not until the final whistle was the issue settled.

The second night the Jacks started out very poorly and didn't make a basket for the full first quarter. In the words of one of the Jacks we quote, "It was horrible to behold". End of quote. After this layoff the Jacks snapped back into form and staged a slow come back, but as was to be expected after such a lead, were beaten out by a full eight points, thereby losing both that game and the series.

However the Jacks are all looking forward to a return match during the provincial playdowns, after they take Magrath of course.

Don't forget the Lions and Jacks tangle Saturday night in another League tussle in the Opera House.

The R.H.S. are putting on a high night Friday starting at 7:30, when their three teams will play two teams from Cardston and one from New Dayton.

The Senior Hockey team played an exhibition game with Milk River here on the 17th and when the ice was finally cleared the score was tied up at 2-2. On the 21st they went to Milk River for their first league game and again a tie 3-3. It looks like these two teams play the same brand of hockey and they should be fun to watch. Keep an eye on your schedule and don't miss the next round up.

The Junior team fared a little better against the Milk River Juniors here on the 17th. They came out on top of a 3-2 score. It looks like hockey is making a good come back here in Raymond and with a little more support could bring plenty of thrills to the sport fans.

Wednesday, January 23 the Jacks travelled to Shelby for a return game with the Distributors who you will remember had such a hard time here Jan. 11th. In spite of the fact that many new players were added to the Shelby team, the Jacks again triumphed by a score of 52-31.

The score at the end of the first quarter was Shelby 9, Raymond 2 but after a minute rest things went back to normal and the rest of the game can be imagined, if you take another look at the final score.

SELECTED RECIPES

EGGLESS CHOCOLATE CAKE
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 cup milk
1 1/2 cups sifted Swans Down cake flour
3/4 teaspoon soda
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1 teaspoon vanilla
Combine chocolate and milk in top of double boiler and cook over rapidly boiling water 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Blend with rotary egg beater; cool. Sift flour once, measure, add soda, salt, and sugar, and sift together three times. Cream shortening; add flour mixture, vanilla, and chocolate mixture, and stir until all flour is dampened. Then beat vigorously 1 minute. Bake in greased and lightly floured pan, 8x8x2 inches, in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 50 minutes, or until done. Spread with Quick Chocolate Frosting.

Quick Chocolate Frosting
2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 can (14 or 15 ounces) sweetened condensed milk
1 tablespoon water
Dash of salt
1 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add condensed milk gradually, mixing well; then add water and salt and blend. Cook 5 minutes over rapidly boiling water, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. Add vanilla. Cool. Makes enough frosting to cover tops of two 9-inch layers, two 8-inch layers (generously), or top and sides of 8x8x2-inch cake or 9x5x3-inch loaf cake. Or enough to cover tops of 2 dozen medium cup cakes.
Note: Three squares Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate may be used for darker, richer flavored frosting. Increase water to 2 tablespoons and cook only 3 minutes.

ARTISTS CAN NEVER DRAW SNOWFLAKES

The Victoria Times says: More fragile than the filigreed ice traceries which form on windows in the heavy frost, the snowflakes can hold their purity but briefly. There is a quick-changing life, individual as they drift from the clouds, falling softly in a silence that becomes almost tangible, to lose identity in the temporary white blanket they spread upon the land. Yet, in their short transit, each is a model of nature's artistry, a symbol of supreme harmony of line that defies imitation by man's most skillful hands.

HEALTH LEAGUE ANSWERS PASTEURIZATION CRITIC

A correspondent of the North Battleford, Sask., Optimist recently wrote to the editor of that newspaper on the subject of milk pasteurization. It is evident from the letter that the correspondent—Mr. Jerome Ternier—does not think much of milk pasteurization.

The Health League of Canada which is campaigning to obtain pasteurization legislation in the eight provinces presently without such laws, hastens to reply to Mr. Ternier. Ontario is the only province with such legislation in force.

Mr. Ternier, as an individual, may not endorse pasteurization of milk, but against his opinion are ranged those of the Canadian Medical Association, the Canadian Medical Association, the British Medical Association, the Canadian Public Health Association, and the American Public Health Association. All these associations endorse and urge universal pasteurization of milk as a great disease eliminator and a life-saving device. Their arguments are based on scientific fact.

The fact that the Canadian Medical Association is in favor of pasteurization should take care of Mr. Ternier's contention that "some of our local doctors" are in doubt as to the improvement in North Battleford's health situation since enactment of a pasteurization by-law.

It is known that raw milk harbors germs which can cause bovine tuberculosis, typhoid fever, undulant fever, septic sore throat, paratyphoid and the fatal diarrhoeas of infancy. Mr. Ternier refers to only one of these diseases—undulant fever. He intimates that the suggestion that the farmer's cow is responsible for an outbreak of this disease could be somewhat far-fetched.

In reply, the Health League would like to point out that one major cause of undulant fever is the drinking of raw milk obtained from cows suffering from Bang's disease—contagious abortion. In an article—"Mystery Crippler"—in a recent issue of Maclean's Magazine, Dr. M. C. Dinberg said that "undulant fever is a foremost public health problem in this country and its continuance rests upon public indifference and ignorance in regard to the dangers of raw milk."

LESS AMPUTATIONS IN SECOND GREAT WAR

Report Shows 2,000 Cases Compared With 3,500 Of First Great Conflict

Statistics compiled by the Department of Veterans Affairs offer an interesting comparison of the "living" amputation cases in the Canadian armed forces during the First and Second Great Wars.

Giving round numbers for comparative purposes, a report available shows there were 2,000 amputation cases resulting from the recent conflict while 3,500 soldiers lost limbs in the First Great War.

In the previous hostilities, Canadian troops were engaged with the enemy from Lemberg in the spring of 1915 until Mons was re-entered in November, 1918. Canadian land forces were fighting in North West Europe for approximately 11 months from the "D Day" landing on the Normandy coast, during which period there were 1,200 amputation cases. Many of those wounds were due to anti-personnel land mines.

Ratio figures have also been developed to show relative losses of legs and arms in both wars. In the first war the loss of a leg was two and a half times more frequent than the severing of an arm. In the second war, leg amputations were three and a half times greater than arm losses. This comparison has been taken to mean that relatively more Canadian soldiers stepped on something during the fighting of the Second Great War.

The statistical review follows the recent announcement that 1,930 veteran amputees of the last war had been classed as available for employment or training. Of this total 248 cases were still in hospital at the end of October.

The couple will live with Paul's parents until "she becomes accustomed to U.S. ways."

DO IT NOW

Many farm operators are now planning their activities for the coming year. The job of repairing farm production tools is one phase of that program that is too often left until the last minute. Many will be counting on procuring new units with which to start the spring work. Some will be doomed to disappointment. Let us briefly examine the machinery picture for 1947.

The coal and steel strikes of 1946 came at a time when manufacturers were getting into full swing on the production of goods to fill the 1947 sales demand. It has been said that the steel strike alone resulted in a permanent loss to the Canadian Implement Industry of 1-4 of its yearly steel requirements. This left the country in its lowest relative steel supply position in our history. This, coupled with other labour troubles, has caused a reduction in the manufacturers originally planned production schedules for 1947. The requests for machines at present exceed by far the ability of the industry to supply the units. As an example, one company finds itself in the position of being able to make only 28 units of one type of plow for every 50 that it could sell. In spite of all this it is anticipated that there will be an increase over last year in some types of machines.

How does all this affect the individual? It means that those who are delaying repair work in the hope of obtaining new machines this spring are running the risk of going without, or of accepting late delivery. Those who habitually wait until the last minute to obtain repairs may those repairs out of stock, temporarily or for a considerable length of time.

In the light of these facts it would appear to be wise for each to go over his machines and order now those repairs needed to put them in shape for the seasons use. Dealers have done an excellent job of providing spare parts on short notice but they cannot perform miracles. If repairs are ordered well in advance it will help the distributors to do their part in helping to put implements into the field in working condition. A planned program of overhaul and maintenance of farm machinery, to be most effective, starts during the slack season. That season is upon us so why not do it now.

The gift to give is a piece of your heart, not a piece of your mind.

Think for others and you're never lonely, whether by yourself or in a crowd.

Good News For MOTORISTS

One of Alberta's greatest needs is good roads.

The recently announced outline of a $9,500,000 Highway Construction Program for the Province in 1947 is good news indeed to motorists, and indeed to everyone in Alberta, including farmers, transportation companies and business men generally.

The A.M.A. heartily endorses this program. It is a step towards the system of all-weather highways that Alberta needs, and that the A.M.A. has consistently advocated.

Canadian Citizenship

WITH THE COMING OF THE NEW YEAR Canadians have acquired for the first time the legal status of Canadian citizenship. The Canadian Citizenship Act, which came into force on the first of January now gives the people of this country the right to describe themselves on passports and other legal documents as Canadians. British citizenship, which all Canadian citizens have held in the past, and will continue to hold under the new regulations, is a privilege which few people would underestimate, but at the same time there is no doubt but that most Canadians find satisfaction in at last being able to claim legal citizenship in the country which is theirs either by birth or by adoption.

Act Of Faith In The Future

The new Citizenship Act has been called "an act of faith in Canada and in Canada's future." Certainly, it is timely for Canadians to give thought now to the meaning of their citizenship and to the privileges and responsibilities which go with it. During the war, the great potentialities of Canada's resources, both human and material, were at last fully realized and her status as a nation increased enormously. A high degree of unity was achieved, both in the armed forces and at home, as people from all parts of the country learned to work together in a great common purpose. Like most countries, Canada is now seeking to set a course, politically and economically, in the post-war world, and amid the problems and uncertainties of the times there is need, indeed, for a continuation of the national consciousness born during the war, and for the people to continue to work together as Canadians in building for the future.

Contribute To National Life

One highly commendable feature of the new Citizenship Act is that now new Canadians who have qualified for citizenship take part in ceremonies which impress upon them the meaning of their new status. There are perhaps none who will welcome this change as much as the new citizens themselves. Most of them come here looking upon Canada as a place where there will be freedom and opportunity which they did not have in their native lands, and formal recognition of their qualification for full citizenship will mean much to them. We may be proud indeed of the people of many races who claim Canadian citizenship and contribute so richly to all phases of our national life. The new Citizenship Act has marked a milestone in Canada's development as a nation, and much of her future depends upon the manner in which all Canadians guard the privileges and fulfill the duties of citizenship.

Thousands Immunized In Quebec City Drive

QUEBEC CITY, Que.—More than 6,000 children were started on the way to complete immunization against diphtheria and whooping cough in the last few weeks as a result of an intensive drive launched by the local branch of the Health League of Canada in co-operation with provincial and city health officials.

It is the hope of the sponsors of the scheme that more than 25,000 city and district children will have been immunized against the menace of these two diseases by next spring. Clinics have been set up in the city's 28 parishes. Municipal authorities are supplying the necessary toxoid and vaccine and hundreds of volunteers—doctors, nurses and others—are participating.

This drive to supply free immunization to the children of this district was well publicized in advance, and on the first day some clinics were swamped as mothers, baby carriages and children swarmed around them. One observer said the scene at one clinic reminded her of a Christmas baby parade.

AUTOMOBILES STILL PRICE CONTROLLED

The Prices Board gave a break, for what it was worth, to the Canadians who still dream of getting a new car.

Motor vehicles, including cars, motorcycles, trucks and trailers, remained within the grip of price controls in the latest Government decree of decontrol. Thus they remained within legal maximum price limits although new car prices were recently allowed to rise 10 per cent.

Bound to the ceiling, too, were pneumatic tires and tubes, storage batteries and bicycles and their parts, as well as motor vehicle parts and accessories.

FUNNY and OTHERWISE

"Miss Flurry, I wish you would not write personal correspondence during office hours. Letters can get mixed in a most annoying way."

"Why, what's happened, Mr. Storm?"

"Here's a complaint in today's mail from the Wheeler Company. They say they ordered a shipment of axle grease and then got a letter from us saying that we were sending them loads of love."

Although it was getting late, the lovers still lingered in the shadowy hall of her ancestral mansion. It was obvious she was pleading with him about something, but in vain.

"It's no use, darling," he said in a broken voice. "I simply can't face your father to ask him for your hand."

"You needn't be frightened of facing him, dear," replied the girl coaxingly. "The great danger is when you turn your back."

Customer—A dozen eggs, please.
Grocer—We have first grade eggs, second grade eggs, third grade—

Customer—Don't bother my further. Just let me have some that have graduated!

"Is that young man courting you, Ethel?" asked her aunt.
"Not exactly; but he's approaching step by step."

"How do you mean?"
"Well, the first time he called he spent the evening with my autograph album on his knee."

"Yes, but—"
"The second time he nursed my dog. Last night he took my little brother on his lap. So you see, it's gradually working around to my turn."

First Business Man—"Since I bought a car I don't have to walk to the bank to make deposits any more."

Second Business man—"You drive there eh?"

First Business man—"No, I don't make any."

A young widow put up a costly monument to her late husband, and had inscribed upon it: "My grief is so great that I cannot bear it."

A year or so later she married again and changed the inscription to read: "My grief is so great that I cannot bear it alone."

Needless Fires

Great Number Of Them Caused By Careless Cigarette Smokers

Some cigarettes, dropped or discarded, continue to burn to the last wisp of tobacco and paper; others die quickly of themselves.

Obviously those of the first type are much the likelier to cause trouble if tossed into a wastepaper basket or allowed to fall into a sofa or bed or cushioned chair. Even a short butt of this type will hold fire for several minutes, while the other sort extinguishes itself almost at once.

So very large a proportion of our needless fires are attributed to cigarettes that one wonders whether the manufacturers should not consider giving all varieties the treatment which apparently some varieties now receive.—Ottawa Journal.

WORKERS WILL HAVE TO STAY ON JOB

Canada can get caught up on production in 1947 if workers stay on the job, Labor Minister Mitchell said on his return from a month-long trip to the West Indies and South America.

"Our problem is one of continued production at a price that will permit mass production," he said. "If we stay on the job and keep turning out the things Canada needs, we need have no fears for the future."

Tanned and fit after his first holiday since 1941, Mr. Mitchell said he returned with the conclusion "that Canada is the best country in the world to live in."

SUBMARINES TO HELP COAL SHORTAGE

LONDON.—The Admiralty called out its submarines to generate power and light for royal dockyards, saving the dockyards' coal for industry in Britain's fuel crisis.

An admiralty spokesman said 30 more submarines would be assigned and each could generate about 1,000 kilowatts a day. They burn oil. A weekly saving of 2,000 tons of coal was envisaged.

Several factories have closed and others are threatened because of the fuel shortage.

During the war, submarines were used to feed the Italian generating station at Naples after the Germans were driven out of the city.

Several miles of cable will be necessary to link up the submarines with the dockyards.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

UNITY

Men's hearts ought not to be set against one another, but set with one another, and all against evil only. —Carlyle

The multitude which does not reduce itself to unity is confusion; the unity which does not depend upon the multitude, is tyranny.—Pascal.

Individuals, as nations, unite harmoniously on the basis of justice, and this is accomplished when self is lost in Love—or God's own plan of salvation.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Jesus throws down the dividing prejudices of nationality, and teaches universal love, without distinction of race, merit, or rank.—Geikie.

Whoever in prayer can say, "Our Father," acknowledges and should feel the brotherhood of the whole race of mankind.—Tryon Edwards.

SHIP'S DREAD AREA NEAR SABLE ISLAND

Collier's Magazine says the world's greatest menace to navigation has long been Sable Island, which lies 85 miles east of Nova Scotia. By slowly sinking since its discovery in 1497, this island has shrunk in size from 14,600 to 20 square miles. Consequently, as it has become surrounded by hundreds of miles of dangerous reefs which are usually enveloped in fog and swept by irregular currents, some 1,000 ships have been wrecked in this "graveyard of the Atlantic."

IMPORTANT GOVERNMENT NOTICE

Respecting Price Control

The Wartime Prices and Trade Regulations (Order in Council P.C. 8528 of November 1, 1941) established basic period maximum prices for goods and designated services. These regulations were passed under the authority of the War Measures Act and continued in force under the National Emergency Transitional Powers Act, 1945.

From time to time these basic maximum prices have been varied or the fixed maximum has been suspended in the case of particular goods and services by Orders issued by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board under the authority of the above Regulations. A few days ago a substantial number of suspensions from price control was announced.

I believe it is desirable therefore that a summary should now be published of those goods and services on which a legal maximum price remains in force under the provisions of the Wartime Prices and Trade Regulations so that all citizens may be given an opportunity to inform themselves of the law.

The complete price control regulations are contained in Wartime Prices and Trade Board Order No. 684 which is available to the public at any office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, and to which reference should be made for exact details.

Douglas Coosa
Minister of Finance.

In the middle of the dance the Indians made a surprise raid on the hall and made away with several of the local girls before any of the crowd could gather themselves together.

A most enjoyable time was had and prizes were awarded for the best costumes.

No Money For EDUCATION

All the signs are pointing to a big debate on Education while the Legislature is sitting. And all the signs indicate that the Minister of Education will tell us there is not enough money to give the school children a fair break. Without criticising anybody's personal tastes, I think it fair to report that the people of Alberta can find $36,000,000 a year to pay for hard liquors, wines, beer and permits in

Snaps & Scraps

The Citadel, a novel by A.J. Cronin has been translated into eleven languages other than English. It has been replaced more than any other book in our library, as many as six times.

Books may come and books may go, but when a new Jalna book comes to the library that is news with a long waiting list of readers. The huge family of the Whiteoaks, live again in the new Jalna book, their quarrels and their loyalties along with the troubles of a large family are the delight of Miss de la Reche's many readers. This last book is the tenth of the Whiteoaks saga. "Return to Jalna" is the story of the return of young Maurice from the old land after the death of his old cousin, Dermott Court. Piers Maurice's father comes home from Germany after an exchange of war prisoners. Renny, the master of Jalna, comes home from the war.

THE CHINOOK

by Rhoda Sevall
from Voice on the Range
The moon across the hills rose cold
last night,
And o'er the snow she shed her
silvery light;
The snow birds shivered in the will
ows bare,
And all the plain was wrapped in wintry air.

As dawn was breaking o'er the prai rie wild,
A whisper came, a whisper soft and mild,
That, from the great Pacific, far away,
A Chinook warm was stealing on its way.

The sun rose up to meet the wel come guest.
Though not a stranger in our golden West;
The snow birds sang upon the willows bare,
And all the plain it lost its wintry
air.

The Chinook rushed across the river dark and deep;
It shook the pine trees on the slipp ery steep;
It roared o'er chasms deep and cou
lees wide,
And rushed on along the mountain side.

Oh, great and mighty Chinook of the West
Which melts the snow from off the mountain crest!
Which makes our little snow birds
gladly sing,
And turns our North-West winter into spring.

berla Educational Council they can find something like $18,000,000 a year to pay for cigars, cigarettes and tobacco. So far they can only find $14,000,000 to spend on educating their children.

It does not make sense. The Minister can give us almost any argument he likes about the collapse of education, but we ask him please not to tell us again that we haven't the money.

When are we going to scrap this new system of "supervisors" that is creeping into our rural schools? No body wants to speak unkindly about the young boys and girls who are taking care of the schools and pupils during the disastrous teacher famine; but it must be realized that they are quite untrained, and no more use as teachers than they would be as stenographers without training. There isn't a business man in our cities who would hire an untrained grade ten girl as a stenographer. It would be the height of stupidity. So why should we continue to exercise the same degree of stupidity in the management of our schools and the instruction of our children?

Does the government realize that education has never fallen as low as this in 25 years? In the last post-war period we were able to get a thousand students into our Normal Schools. We can't do it today. Get at the underlying causes and remove them, before a bad mess gets worse.

SHORT STORY—

"BACK FIRE"

By JOHN DOROGI

Copyright Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

THE minute the door swung open everyone in the office knew that the Duncans finally had gotten themselves a boy. One arm cradled a box of cigars and under the other rested five pounds of candy, as Joe with tired eyes but a beaming face proudly announced, "You should see his lega already. Who said there'd be only one All-American in the Duncan family?"

On the two previous occasions Joe's wife had presented him with young Duncans. Each time it had been a girl. And very cute young ladies they were too—aged two and four now—and much loved, but neither could hope to play halfback for Eastern State as dad had.

"Here you are, boys," Joe continued, after shaking hands all around, "one to a customer. Better use a toothpick on the last half inch of these 'cause they cost me half a rock apiece. And for the girls—five pounds of the best sweet stuff I could find. Hop to it, and by the way, Bee, 'this to his secretary,' save me a couple of those cigars for Mr. Kramer. He and I have some things to talk over when he gets back this afternoon. And, oh say! where's Tony?"

His eyes held a devilish gleam as from his vest pocket he pulled another cigar, seemingly identical to those in the box only everyone knew it wasn't exactly identical. They all recognized the symptoms of Joe's most obvious failing. Though quite popular with the office force, he could have commanded greater respect and popularity had he been able to lay off his practical jokes. His big infectious grin and general air of never having quite grown up naturally drew people to him, but even his best friends knew they weren't immune to an occasional hotfoot or a slap on whatever part of the anatomy sunburn had made the most tender.

Tony wasn't hard to find, for having heard the news he was hurrying toward Joe with outstretched hand. "Con-grash-uiaishus, Meestair Joe," his face beamed his pleasure. "I'm vera happy to hear you getta whatta you wanta." Tony was genuinely glad for Joe and he showed it.

That was why the crowd melted away from around the two of them. They all liked the good natured little Italian janitor, who never seemed too busy to empty a wastebasket or perform some menial task that no one else had time to do. A certain amount of sympathy too was mingled with their liking for Tony who had not always been a janitor. In the old country he had been a gardener; here he had developed quite a landscaping business until arthritis and dampness of the earth during the spring and fall had forced him to seek employment indoors.

Tony took the proffered cigar and immediately ruined the situation for Joe by remarking, "Thanks you, Meestair Joe, I'ma hope you don't mind if I'ma amoka heem affair appair tonight. I'ma always say a gooda seegar always tasta best affair a spaghetti and a goodn red wine." Joe was obviously disappointed but knew that insistence on immediate action with the cigar would make a bad situation worse so with a shrug of his shoulders and a muffled "Okay, Tony," he turned and walked away.

Joe mooned around the office for about an hour before admitting that the all-night vigil and nervous tension had worn him down. He needed sleep badly but before he left he instructed Bee to make an appointment with Kramer for the following morning. It would be better that way. He'd be fresh and sharp in the morning and would be able to give the old boy a real argument, if one was necessary, and knowing Kramer he knew there would be an argument.

Joe's thoughts were on the morrow as he wearily drove home. Kramer had resisted his demands for a salary increase for almost a year. Three times he'd talked to him and three times the results were negative, but Joe was not a quitter. He felt he'd learned more about the old man each time and thought he could make him give in tomorrow. He knew a lot depended on the mood he was in and the setting in that respect would be almost perfect. On the way out of the office Bee had told him that Kramer had just returned from a vacation in Florida with a first place trophy he'd won in a golf tournament. Golf fiend that he was, Kramer couldn't help but be in a mellow and expansive state of mind for several days at least.

Mood wasn't all of it though and Joe knew he'd have to give out with good hard facts. He wondered if the advent of his third-born would prove to be lever enough to dislodge Kramer from his previous tenacious position. Hospital and doctor expenses, normal rise in living because of the new baby, insurance and some sort of trust fund to insure a college education for the boy would all be included in his argument when he gazed across the highly polished desk into the old man's shrewd and calculating eyes. Joe's brain buzzed from both weariness and effort as he tried to fit the pieces into a logical pattern. He was almost certain that he could swing the deal but his knowledge of Kramer's attitude in the past continued to worry him. His ace in the hole was Kramer's happy frame of mind. Experience had proved that in a black mood Kramer was impregnable. Joe was glad there were such things as business men's golf tournaments.

Joe dressed carefully that morning, his mind busily rehearsing his speech. He shined the backs of his shoes as well as the fronts, put on a freshly cleaned gray suit and tied a Windsor knot into a new gray green tie; more green than gray for somewhere he'd read that green was restful and relaxing to the eye. That's the way he wanted Kramer, calm and relaxed.

In the hall outside the office he almost ran over Tony, broom in one hand, dust pan in the other. The memory of yesterday afternoon returned as he stopped and said with a slightly sheepish grin, "Good morning, Tony. How was the cigar?"

It was Tony's turn to look sheepish and as he squirmed and shifted from one foot to the other, Joe felt a slight pang of remorse for his seeming embarrassment, although he couldn't deny he somehow enjoyed it.

Tony spoke, "Well, I'ma tella you, Joe, I'ma no cana tell if sheesa good ceeegar or not." Joe's grin grew wider. He should have pushed the load in farther; let Tony get a little enjoyment of the cigar at least.

"You see," Tony continued "sheesa like dis. Lasta night da higgs boss heesn calla me lina ofuse and aska me to do som' landscape work for heem. You know—hut em' lina couple bush. THOUSANDS READY TO LONDON.—The Evening Standard said that if the Canadian government reopens its immigration offices in Liverpool, Glasgow and Belfast there will be a flood of applications.

The newspaper added that in Liverpool alone shipping companies have a waiting list of 100,000 waiting to go to Canada.

The story, which was featured prominently on the front page, said an average of 100 persons a day made inquiries about Canadian immigration in London and 5,000 were awaiting shipping in Ulster.

Saskatchewan Birds
Facing Starvation

WEYBURN, Sask.—Game birds in this south-central Saskatchewan district are facing starvation due to a heavy crust atop deep snows, reports reaching here said. Birds are unable to dig through to ground food.

One district farmer said he was able to pick up a starving pheasant and others reported that the usually wary birds including prairie chickens and Hungarian partridge were coming straight into farmers' yards looking for food.

Herb Comstock, game warden, said the Department of Natural Resources has authorized purchase of grain to feed the birds.

Incurable Disease

VERONA, Italy.—Villagers of Verona's tiny suburb of San Pietro in Legnano reported the miraculous cure of 18-year-old Anna Modenesa who had suffered from a goitre and neck tumor which was considered incurable.

The young woman's recovery was said to have followed her new year's dream in which she said she saw an apparition of St. Teresa.

The Saint appeared in her dream, the girl said, carrying a baby completely dressed in green and promised to cure the girl if her father "would swear no longer."

When she awakened the girl called her family to her bedside and neighbors said the cure began almost immediately.

Today she was reported completely cured, and physicians said the incident was "outside the bounds of science."

MY WEEK

by R. J. Deachman

A few days ago this item appeared in a column entitled "Fifty Years Ago":

"Fifty years ago, eggs were eight cents a dozen, butter ten cents a pound, milk was five cents a quart, the butcher gave away liver and spare ribs and treated the boys to bologna; the hired girl received two bucks a week, did the washing and looked after the baby and also the furnace on the side."

I have a suspicion that he is a little under on that egg stuff. We sold them once in Huron County at six cents a pound, on the average that would be nine cents a dozen. Two bucks a week perhaps passes as the wages of a hired girl and I remember a good strong man working in a brick yard all summer for $13.50 a month and I once got $1.25 a day digging a coal cellar and never since have I felt so completely on top of the world.

Winston Churchill provides excellent newspaper copy. Basil Dean, a London correspondent quotes this item:

"After the usual statement of business, Mr. Churchill got to his feet.

"May I give the leader of the notice of his convenience and generosity, that when parliament re-assembles, we shall ask him to afford an opportunity for a vote of censure."

"Mr. Morrison: 'I wonder if the right honorable gentleman, as he is in such a courteous mood, would add to his courtesy by telling me what it is about? What are we to be censured for?'"

"Mr. Churchill: 'I should not attempt to draft the motion at this moment, but tyranny, conceit and incompetence would be the substance of it.'"

Here is a rather peculiar fact in regard to Canadian price control. I have to throw in a figure or two but don't let that disturb you, besides I shall leave off the fractions of cents, they are not important. The price index of farm products in Canada has gone up from 100 in 1926 to 113 in October, 1946.

What do I mean by that. I mean that the farm products for which the Canadian farmer received a dollar in 1926 brings him now $1.13. Turn now to the United States. The change in the same period has been from 100 to 165. For each dollar he received in 1926 he now gets $1.65. The relationship is $1.13 for the Canadian farmer, $1.65 for the American.

The farmer is the background of our prosperity. You can't have prosperity in Canada unless the farmer is prosperous but we hold down the price of farm products in order to benefit the other sectors of our economy, while the United States they let farm prices run while other prices were held down.

Let us be perfectly fair about this. The average of all wholesale products in the United States moved up, in the same time from 100 to 154. In Canada the change was from 100 to 111. This means that the farmer in the United States would have to pay more for the things he bought. The gains from his own high prices would not all be profit, there would be something on the other side, but the net position of the American farmer is better, much better than, the Canadian farmer. All this goes to show that when we undertake to control prices the task is not easy.

This is disturbing. If we should have a depression now the farmer would not have the necessary reserves to meet the occasion, at least not to the same extent as the American farmer. It will be claimed, of course that because we haven't risen to such heights we will not sink as low but we cannot be sure of that. As the situation stands now one must admit that the Canadian farmer, as nearly always, has the worst of the deal. He always has, he is hit both by sunshine and shade.

There is another item, however, on which we should do a little bit of thinking. We have heard much of the monopoly control of manufactured goods. How much have the prices of manufactured articles risen since 1926. They have been below the 1926 level until October 1946. Then the index reached 101.2 as against 100 in 1926, but in all the intervening years between those two periods the price of manufactured goods was lower than it was in 1926. When we talk of monopoly control and high prices of manufactured products it is just as well that we should look the facts in the face and see where they stand. Remember that the prices given in this story are wholesale prices, not retail, and retail costs of doing business are up sharply, since 1926 and taxes are higher, much higher.

PUBLIC OPINION

"Wherever and whenever men meet for discussing any affairs of the municipality, state, or nation, public opinion is in the process of evolving and changing, however trifling the immediate topic concerned may be. Public opinion is influenced by anything that is spoken or done in transactions between buyers and sellers, between employers and employees, between creditors and debtors. Public opinion is shaped in the debates of countless representative bodies, committees and commissions, associations and clubs, by editorials and letters to the editor, by the pleading of lawyers and by the opinions of judges."

CANADIAN CITIZENSHIP ENHANCES OPPORTUNITIES

A Canadian is now a citizen of his own country. An appropriate ceremony, marked only by the omission of a Canadian Indian, fittingly marked the establishment of Canadian citizenship by act of parliament.

Canadians who hitherto had not been conscious of any loss because of lack of clear cut citizenship, marked with pride and appreciation their acquisition of a new status among men. A sense of increased responsibility and enhanced opportunities came to the people. A Canadian counts for more; more will be expected of him.

The Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. Wm. Lyon Mackenzie King, who graces such an occasion with fitting words said: "There are older countries, there are larger countries, but no country holds today a higher place in the esteem of other nations. Our unity and our strength will be increased."

New Assistance Is Offered To War Veterans

OTTAWA.—The Veterans Business and Professional Loans act, passed at the last session of parliament as a measure to encourage financial assistance to veterans at low rates of interest, is proclaimed, Veterans Minister MacKenzie announced.

Proclamation of the act was withheld while regulations for administering it were re-drafted, the minister said. This task now has been completed in co-operation with the department of finance and the Chartered Banks of Canada.

The loans under the act will be available to veterans who have received war service gratuities but have not already been given assistance under the Veterans' Land act. The veterans may apply for the loan for the following purposes:

1. For purchase of a business or partnership.
2. Purchase or repair of machinery, tools, instruments or other equipment of business.
3. Construction, repair or alteration of, or making of additions to, any building or structure used or to be used in the carrying on of business.
4. Any purpose as prescribed which may be deemed to benefit the veterans' business.

Loans will be made for varying purposes, depending on the size of the loan and the individual circumstances of the borrower. The maximum term will be 10 years and the rate of interest five per cent. The act defines business as including trade, industry or profession.

The banks themselves will be guaranteed by the government against loss up to 25 per cent. of the overall aggregate amount of loans up to $1,000,000 and 15 per cent. thereafter. They may follow the normal lending procedure but the act permits the banks to take additional lending security.

Loans made within five years up to a maximum of $25,000,000 are guaranteed under the act.

"It should be made clear that this legislation does not mean the government itself is lending money to veterans," said Mr. MacKenzie. "The loans will be made by the Chartered banks and the banks themselves will decide on the credit status of those applying. These loans will be facilitated by the guarantee against the proportion of possible loss as provided by the new act. Veterans are therefore advised to make their applications directly to a Chartered bank."

STRESSES NEED OF INDUSTRIAL WEST

VANCOUVER.—Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, called for industrial development throughout western Canada in an interview here.

"Development from here to Winnipeg has to come—and if the industrialists will not do it, the people will take over and see that it is done," the minister declared.

"It is my opinion industry should be developed all over western Canada and especially from Vancouver to Calgary."

Mr. Gardiner said that often, in the past, large industries bought up smaller, localized industries and closed them up to provide selling fields for their own products instead of opening up and developing new territories.

"There would be no use talking of enterprise operating industry if they continued to do it as they had in the past," he said bluntly.

"We need some sensible people in industry."

ICE ANAESTHETIC PROVES SUCCESSFUL

WINNIPEG.—An unusual surgery operation, using ice as the only anaesthetic, has been performed at Deer Lodge, Man., hospital on Sgt. Maj. John Alexander, 79-year-old veteran. It was learned here. A gangrenous foot required amputation of his leg "through" the knee.

Dr. W. L. Gunn, hospital superintendent, said a regular anaesthetic was not used because of the man's age. This is believed to have been the first use of ice as an anaesthetic for an operation of this nature in Winnipeg, he added.

Sgt. Maj. Alexander said he was not able to see what the doctors were doing but he could hear them "sawing away."

WILL GO ON TRIAL

VENICE, Italy.—The British supreme command in Italy announced that Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, former supreme German commander in southeast Europe, will go on trial for war crimes before a British military court in Venice next month.

SETS NEW RECORD

AMSTERDAM.—A New York-to-Amsterdam flight record was set by a Dutch Constellation aircraft which completed the 3,600-mile trip in 11 hours, four minutes, compared with the previous record of 12 hours.

FRENCH TRY GENERAL FOR WAR "MURDERS"—Senior German military commander in the occupation of France, Gen. Otto von Stulpnagel is being tried by a French military tribunal in Paris. He was brought from Germany recently and is accused of responsibility for a long list of murders and other acts of violence.

Immigration To Canada Is Increasing

OTTAWA.—Immigration into Canada has already been reversed in major degree from the emigration from Canada during the war.

For the nine months ending Sept. 30, 1946, a total of 58,992 immigrants entered Canada, according to figures of the department of immigration.

This compares with only 18,299 who entered Canada in the same nine months of 1945 and with 22,722 immigrants into Canada for the full year of 1945.

Of this total of 58,992, those of British racial origin—English, Irish, Scots and Welsh, totalled 43,272. This compares with 12,969 for the same nine months of 1945 and 14,677 for the full year 1945.

Of course, this 43,272 of British racial origin included the wives and children of returning veterans, most of whom have now arrived.

But against this decline, there is a significantly rapid rise in immigration from the United States.

Thus of the total of 58,992 immigrants arriving in Canada in the nine months ending last September, 8,649 were from the United States. That 8,649 of American immigrants coming to reside permanently in Canada compares with only 4,362 for the same nine months of 1945 and with 6,394 for the full year 1945. This rate of American immigration is increasing.

Subtracting the immigrants of British racial origin and those from the U.S., a total of 51,921 from the total of 58,992 who came to Canada in the first nine months of 1946, leaves 7,071 immigrants from other countries, nearly all from Europe.

But this 7,071 does not include the nearly 4,000 Polish soldiers brought to Canada for farm work who are not yet counted on an immigrant basis. If these 4,000 Poles were counted, it would bring the total of newcomers to Canada in the first nine months of 1946 to nearly 63,000.

Still more significant, however, is the rising tide of Canadians returning to Canada, mostly from the United States.

In the nine months ending Sept. 30, 1946, a total of 3,388 Canadians returned to Canada compared to only 1,878 in the same nine months of 1945 and 2,689 for the full year 1945.

NEW SELLING PHASE BY WAR ASSETS

OTTAWA.—War Assets corporation has entered a new phase of selling activity with inauguration of warehouse "inspection and bid" sales. E. R. Birchard, vice-president in charge of merchandising for the corporation, said.

When a warehouse sale is decided on, goods for sale are arranged in lots convenient for inspection. They are small enough to permit buyers of limited means to compete with larger buyers.

Following the inspection period four days are allowed for reception of bids, after which the highest bidder is notified of acceptance of his offer provided the price is equitable. Unsuccessful bidders also are informed of non-acceptance of their offers. Special mobile units have been organized to handle these sales and each unit includes an information section.

COMPLETE PARATROOP COURSE

OTTAWA.—Seven officers and two other ranks of the Canadian army active force baled out of a plane over Camp Shilo, Man., recently to complete their paratroops course and become the first of Canada's peacetime active force to qualify for their "jump wings", defence headquarters disclosed.

World's Major Armies Is Estimated At 11,000,000

Russia Has Largest

WASHINGTON.—The second year of peace finds an estimated 11,000,000 men and women in the world's major armies.

This figure is based on a compilation made by Maj. Hal D. Steward of El Paso, Texas, mainly from United States war department intelligence reports, for an article in the current issue of the semi-official armored cavalry Journal.

Maj. Steward, a cavalry officer, stressed that the report does not pretend to be wholly accurate since secrecy and evasion cloak the strength of some countries, notably Russia which is believed to have the world's largest army at present.

The five major world powers have an estimated total of 8,650,000 including 2,700,000 in the Chinese national army. In addition, communist China is reported to have nearly 1,000,000 men in service.

Maj. Steward estimates the Russian army now numbers about 3,000,000. China comes next with about 2,700,000 regulars in the national army, Britain third with about 1,500,000, the United States fourth with 1,300,000 and France fifth with 150,000.

One of the largest armies, he said, is maintained by Yugoslavia—nearly 800,000, of whom 10 percent are women.

BRITAIN CURTAILS COAL DELIVERIES

LONDON.—Faced by the most serious fuel crisis in the country's history, the British government has announced an over-all cut in coal deliveries to industry.

Sir Stafford Cripps, president of the board of trade, admitted to a press conference that the export drive might be affected though it is hoped not seriously. Any unemployment caused by the cut would be "very small—practically nothing."

Domestic fuel supplies will not be cut and electricity and gas plants will be given "enough coal to work full out"—but even the iron and steel industry and industrial coke ovens will be short of requirements by an estimated 300,000 tons weekly.

In addition to the industrial cut, Sir Stafford said that hotels, restaurants and movie theatres might have to use less electricity and coal but there will be no further dimming of street lighting.

Fuel Minister Shinwell who also met with the press said that allocation would be put on a "realistic scale"—about half the previous allocations.

CEILING REMAINS

No Change in Price on Gasoline And Tractor Distillates

OTTAWA.—While the import subsidy on crude oil is being withdrawn, federal officials said price ceilings on gasoline and tractor distillates would remain as at present.

The subsidy is being removed, it was stated, in line with government policy to withdraw this type of wartime assistance generally as soon as possible.

It was understood some protests against the subsidy removal, chiefly on the ground it might affect gasoline prices, had been received. It was emphasized that no price increases beyond the existing ceilings would be permitted.

SHIPS CARRY WHEAT FOR ITALY

WASHINGTON.—Six American ships carrying army wheat to Germany have been ordered to proceed instead to Italy to stave off famine and food riots, it was disclosed.

This was revealed as Italian premier Alcide De Gasperi prepared to fly to Rome armed with assurances of other United States financial and economic aid for his war-improverished country.

Assistant Secretary of War Howard C. Peterson announced that the war department had received an urgent request from the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration all possible aid in relieving the "acute distress in Italy."

The ships are carrying about 50,000 tons of wheat originally destined for American forces in Germany.

The announcement came after the export-import bank had disclosed its "willingness" to extend $100,000,000 (M) in credits to restore and expand certain segments of Italy's export market.

BUTTER PRODUCED IN 1946 DOWN

OTTAWA.—The dominion bureau of statistics reported that creamery butter production in December totalled 10,292,000 pounds against 10,505,000 pounds in December 1945, bringing production for the whole of 1946 to 270,150,000 pounds against 293,541,000 pounds in 1945.

Of the December figures, the bureau said declines in production were reported in all provinces except Quebec and Ontario, which showed advances of 9.7 and 9.5 per cent. respectively.

The bureau said an appraisal of the creamery butter situation over the first four months of 1947 indicated that, on the basis of present levels of rations and allocations, prospective supplies will be approximately 11,000,000 pounds below requirements.

Great Britain To Support U.S. Atomic Stand

NEW YORK.—Authoritative sources said that Great Britain will support the United States in insisting atomic energy control be given priority over general disarmament if there is a showdown with Russia in the United Nations security council.

Russia is insisting that "all phases" of world disarmament be taken up immediately by the 11-power security body. She is opposed to giving priority to atomic energy control.

The United States argues that atomic energy control should be given top consideration on the grounds that if there is an international system of protection from atomic weapons, the problem of lesser weapons should not prove insurmountable.

Delegates believed the basic argument over priority may be resolved when the security council meets.

Under the Russian proposal, atomic energy would be included in disarmament discussion but without any special priority such as the United States deems necessary.

An American source said the United States delegation wanted the security council to consider the report of the atomic energy commission as the first action under the U.N. assembly's resolution calling for worldwide disarmament.

The dates for "A" circuit for 1947 are as follows:

Wilson of Saskatoon to handle livestock. Saskatoon was also represented by A. M. McIntyre, who is in charge of the midway committee, J. F. Sweeney, of Regina, is chairman for racing.

For the "B" circuit, A. W. Shaw of Vegreville, Alberta is officiating as president, with Keith Stewart of Portage la Prairie as secretary.

Where There Is A Will There Is A Way

CHICAGO.—Been dreading that talk you've planned with the little wife about holding down her budget?

There is nothing to fear, says Frank Morgan, Chicago dance instructor, if first you whirl her around the living room a few times in a snappy lango.

Morgan says a study of the dance, its cause and effect, has convinced him that rhythm and anger don't mix.

Starting from there, Morgan devised a series of special dances which he claimed were sure-fire to (1) make someone see things our way, (2) condition someone for unpleasant news or (3) patch things up quickly if the damage is already done.

For example: The wife is about to go shopping for a new hat hubby can't afford. Says Morgan, "this calls for the schottische, a very friendly, little bit of old-fashioned dancing. Then he can tell her."

Or there is a disagreeable chore to perform that could start an argument. Preface the chore with a rhumba, Morgan urges, and no fight can start.

Production Of Stock Needed Says Gardiner

CALGARY.—The government, working in co-operation with farm organizations, has made "every provision" for the farmer collecting his reasonable proportion of the national income, Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, federal minister of agriculture, told the United Farmers of Alberta annual convention.

"The only question remaining," he went on, "is as to whether that is what the whole farming community desires. The gross income can be increased by producing to the limit that which brings in the most cash and the net income by producing what pays best."

Questioned after his formal address on the government's policy toward inducing greater barley production, Mr. Gardiner said an announcement would be made after his return to Ottawa. He pointed out that the provinces and the farm organizations represented in the C.F.A. proposed that there be an acreage subsidy of $5 per acre on all land put into barley, and that present equalization payment come off and the price remain the same.

The government is "considering" this proposal, he said, and will either provide an acreage subsidy or increase the price.

After giving figures to show the great effect of increased livestock production on farm income during the war years, Mr. Gardiner advised farmers to stay with livestock.

"If a farmer sells all his feed grain to Denmark or the United States or the brewery just because he can get a little more for it and closes up that part of his plant which pays the best profits, he should not be surprised if Denmark and the United States and the brewery force him to take a lower price when he no longer has a market for hogs, beef or dairy products in Britain."

"The only way farmers can get and maintain their reasonable share of the national income, granted they have an assured market and reasonable price, is through mass production of what they have a reasonable market for, and preferably the finished product, such as cattle, hogs and eggs. If we want our share of the national income, it is in our hands. We have the market. We have the price."

"We can only hold the market and the price if we supply the demand for the finished product rather than pass on the raw materials to some one over whom we have no control."

The minister discussed wheat policy at length and criticized the attitude of the grain exchange to export policy.

He quoted a grain exchange advertisement "what guarantee have you that because you accept a lower price now you will get a higher price later?"

And his answer: "All I can say in reply is that I personally discussed the matter with the British officials and their minister. They are agreed that we are entitled to have possible losses in the first two years made up in the last two. They have so stated in the contract."

"I have at least as high a regard and respect for the word of the British government as I have for that of the grain exchange, and I know the western farmers have a much higher regard for the British government whatever party heads it."

TRACTOR TRAIN BRINGS FOOD

THE PAS, Man.—A second provision-loaded caterpillar train—eight tractors drawing 32 sleighs—crawled toward the mining and Indian settlement of God's Lake, 280 miles east of The Pas, to dispel for the winter the threat of another enforced fish diet for the 514 residents.

Bad weather which interfered with the operation of the caterpillars, and the dwindling of supplies on the shelves of the settlement's sole store had precipitated a minor crisis in the lives of the 14 white and 500 Indian residents. They were forced to go on an almost 100 per cent. fish diet.

The first caterpillar train was hailed joyously by practically every resident. Extra help was employed at the store to open the cases. No sooner were the shelves filled than the eager Indians emptied them.

TO REDUCE PRICE OF CITIZENSHIP PAPERS

OTTAWA.—Loud protests from numerous Canadians who object to paying $5 apiece for the new Canadian citizenship certificates for themselves and their wives have caused the government to change its mind. The $5 fee is to be reduced, it was admitted by Hon. Colin Gibson, secretary of state.

Mr. Gibson was not certain yet how much the fee would be cut. It may be the certificates will be reduced to $1 or even given free to native-born Canadians. Foreign-born, naturalized Canadians may still be charged the $5 fee.

Huterite Question To Be Discussed At Public Meeting

A general meeting sponsored by the Canadian Legion in Raymond has been called for Wednesday, Jan.
20th, at 7:30 in the Town Hall.

The problem of the Huterites buying land will be fully discussed by several well known business men of the district, and the need for countermeasures as well as the countermeasures will be discussed. This is very important to the future of the entire southern part of Alberta.

Come out and lend your assistance to this movement.

The Raymond Branch of the Canadian Legion held a business meeting and "smoker" in the Hungarian
Hall, Friday, January 17.

They had as guests two members of the Magrath Branch, L.R. Tanner and Jim Green.

The President of the two clubs,
Rev. Larke, gave a very interesting report of his trip to the Legion Convention in Calgary and Mr. Tanner and Mr. Green added a few words to his account.

The local business affairs kept the members so busy and interested that very little time was left for the entertainment planned. The question of the Huterites was discussed and support was gained and promised from and to other branches in opposition to these people.

A combined social with the Magrath branch was tentatively accepted but no date set as yet.
